EDWARD HANRAHAN, ET AL.
(U.S.D.C., N.D. ILL.)
CIVIL ACTION NO. 70 C 1384

On 9/29/80, AUSA [REDACTED] Chicago, advised that the Chief Clerk, U. S. Court of Appeals, 7th Circuit, Thomas Strubbe recently requested the U. S. Attorney's Office to remove from the Court of Appeals storage room the mock-up exhibit of Black Panther Headquarters, West Monroe Street, Chicago, prepared by the FBI Technical Services Division, and used during the trial of above captioned case. Inasmuch as the case has been remanded to the district court for retrial, the exhibit should be stored until its use is required again.

On 9/30/80, with the authorization of AUSA [REDACTED] and the approval of Chief Clerk Strubbe, the exhibit was removed from the Court of Appeals, and placed into an FBI bulky exhibit room located on the 9th floor adjacent to the Office of the Assistant Support Services Supervisor. The exhibit as found in the Court's storage room was in a dismantled condition, and consisted of a main section, miscellaneous parts contained in three separate boxes, and a large separate wood piece bearing a description plate.

Hoover anti-black memos revealed

From Sun-Times Wires

NEW YORK—Former FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover deliberately set out to discredit the Black Panther Party and black nationalist leaders, including Stokely Carmichael and Angela Davis, by trying to manipulate the news media, published reports said Sunday.

THE REPORTS, appearing in The New York Times and the New York Daily News, also said that Hoover, in a series of memos during the late 1960s and early 1970s, directed his agents to discredit black nationalist sympathizers, including composer and conductor Leonard Bernstein.

The declassified memos were obtained recently under the Freedom of Information Act by lawyers for Richard Moore, a former Black Panther Party leader now serving 25 years to life for the attempted murder of two police officers.

Moore, 36, is suing the FBI, former President Richard M. Nixon, former Attorney General John Mitchell and other officials, charging he was framed in the attack on the police officers.

ELIZABETH FINK, one of Moore's lawyers, said other memos from Hoover include one offering a $500 bonus to the police officer who killed Panther leader Fred Hampton in Chicago.

"We also have files taking credits for murders," she added.

The documents show Hoover ordered the FBI to "expose, disrupt, misdirect, discredit or otherwise neutralize the activities of black nationalist organizations and groups, their leadership, spokesmen and supporters and to counter their propensity for violence and civil disorder," the two New York newspapers reported.

The documents also show the FBI tried to sever Jewish support for the Black Panther Party by sending fake letters to people who attended a Panther fund-raiser hosted by conductor Leonard Bernstein.

According to a Feb. 25, 1970, memorandum to the FBI's New York field office, Hoover, who died in 1972, said the letters should outline "the [party's] anti-Semitic posture."

A spokesman for the FBI refused to comment.

ACCORDING TO the memos, Hoover directed his agents to cultivate friendships with journalists who might help in carrying out his ends.

In July, 1968, the FBI's New York office claimed it was "in daily contact" with black journalists at the following agencies in New York City: ABC-TV and Radio, CBS-TV and Radio, WNEW-TV and Radio, WOR-TV and Radio, the Associated Press, United Press International and WINS radio, the newspaper reports said. Almost every name on the list of journalists was misspelled.

Hoover's orders to enlist the aid of local black journalists to help the campaign apparently were unsuccessful, and some of the documents discuss futile attempts to contact reporter Earl Caldwell, a Daily News columnist who was working for the New York Times at the time.

Other journalists named in the documents denied having any contact with the FBI.

F.B.I.'s Files Reveal Covert Acts Against the Black Panther Party

By C. GERALD FRASER

The Federal Bureau of Investigation tried to use black journalists, anonymous telephone calls and forged letters to disrupt the New York chapter of the Black Panther Party in the late 1960's and early 1970's, according to documents from the agency's files.

These documents concentrate on the New York office, but the bureau's counterintelligence program ranged across the nation. In this period of the bureau's activities, 19 Black Panthers were killed by law-enforcement authorities or by one another in internal feuds. J. Edgar Hoover, the late Director of the bureau, said of the Panthers in this period in a memorandum urging his San Francisco bureau to be more active against them, "All information developed to date, leads to the obvious conclusion that this group is dedicated to the principle of violent overthrow and will go to any length to further this aim."

Some letters were meant to counter support for the Panthers among Jews. In January 1970 Mr. Hoover authorized agents in New York to send letters critical of the group to guests at a Black Panther fund-raising party at the home of Leonard Bernstein, the composer and conductor.

"It is recommended," said Mr. Hoover in a memorandum to the special agent in charge, "that New York sign this letter with an anonymous name with additional phraseology such as 'A Concerned and Loyal Jew,' or other similar phraseology." The letters were mailed Feb. 27, 1970. Commenting on the case last week, Mr. Bernstein said, "None of these machinations has adversely affected my life or work, but they did cause a good deal of bitter unpleasantness."

Bureau documents describing these activities have been made available under provisions of the Freedom of Information Act to attorneys for Richard Moore, a former leader of the Black Panther Party's New York chapter. In March 1973, Mr. Moore was convicted of the attempted murder of two police officers, Thomas Curry and Nicholas Binetti, who were guarding the Riverside Drive residence of District Attorney Frank S. Hogan of Manhattan.

Mr. Moore was sentenced to 25 years to life. Now 36 years old and still in prison, he has filed a civil suit against the F.B.I., former President Richard M. Nixon, former Attorney General John N. Mitchell and other Federal officials of the era, charging that they framed him for the attack on the police officers. The suit was filed in 1975 and is being heard in Federal District Court in Manhattan by Federal Judge Mary Johnson Lowe.

Mr. Moore asks $750,000 in damages, a judgment declaring the activities of the counterintelligence program illegal and an injunction to prevent the bureau and the New York Police Department from harassing him. He offers as an example of harassment constant transfers to various New York State prisons.

This suit is similar to two others, one in Chicago, concerning the killings by Chicago police of the Panthers Fred Hampton and Mark Clark, and one in San Francisco brought by Elmer Pratt, a Black Panther Party official convicted of murdering a woman in Santa Monica, in 1972.

Just First Move, Lawyer Says

Elizabeth Fink, one of Mr. Moore's attorneys, said last week that the documents made public in connection with Mr. Moore's suit were the "first production" of the counterintelligence program's memorandums on the New York chapter of the Black Panther Party.

An F.B.I. press officer said that "we do not expand upon any material we release," and that he doubted "very seriously" that any bureau official would comment on whether the program against "Black Nationalist — Hate Groups" had been successful.

A Feb. 25, 1970 memorandum to the New York field office from Mr. Hoover said the correspondence to Mr. Bernstein's guests should outline "the B.P.P.'s anti-Semitic posture." Mr. Hoover, who was to die at the age of 77 on May 2, 1972, rejected a suggestion from New York to use "the signature of a non-existent individual alleging affiliation with the Jewish Defense League," lest a recipient of the letter try to locate its author.

In April 1969, Mr. Hoover directed the New York office to send what the bureau called an "Irving" letter aimed at thwarting any support for the Panthers by the Communist Party. The letter said, in part, "I don't have to prove to you that the Black Panthers are a Maoist anti-Semitic gang. Don't they know which side their bread is buttered on?"

"Irving," according to the F.B.I. documents, was "a fictitious person" described as "a disgruntled Jewish member of the Communist Party, United States of America." Mr. Hoover said the "Irving" letter should be sent to a person, whose name was deleted, who had used information provided by the bureau to write articles for a publication whose name was deleted. The articles, Mr. Hoover said, "have proven embarrassing and injurious" to the Communist Party.

After Angela Davis was arrested in October 1970 on charges of murder, kidnapping and criminal conspiracy, the bureau's New York and Chicago offices sent letters to Ebony Magazine and The Village Voice. Signed by "A Friend of Sister Angela" and "Concerned Brother," the letters said that Huey Newton, Supreme Commander of the Black Panther Party, was "the 'finger man' who had been responsible for Miss Davis' capture."

This "ploy," the New York field office wrote, "might result in disruption in the Black Nationalist field as well as divorcing B.P.P. from C.P.U.S.A. and Militant New Left groups."

The bureau was repeatedly disturbed by the apparent success of the newspaper The Black Panther, both as an instrument of propaganda and a fund-raising vehicle. His New York office told Mr. Hoover in May 1970 that the paper would be "most vulnerable to an attack on its production or distribution."

In November 1970, seeking to create a boycott by union members handling the newspaper's shipments, Mr. Hoover directed 39 of his field offices to mail copies of a column about the Panthers by Victor Riesel to "unions such as the teamsters and others involved in handling shipments of B.P.P. newspapers." The column was also to be sent anonymously to "officials of police associations who might be in a position to encourage boycott."

In 1968, apparently trying to aggravate friction between the Black Panther Party and the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, the bureau's San Francisco field office suggested in a memorandum that information on the resignations from the Panther Party of Stokely Carmichael and James Forman, both S.N.C.C. officials, be given to Carl Rowan, a syndicated columnist.

He "might use this material as a responsible Negro," the memorandum said. Mr. Rowan, who had been an Ambassador to Finland and a director of the United States Information Agency, said last week that "J. Edgar Hoover hated my guts; nobody from the F.B.I. ever fed me any information."

Other black journalists were mentioned in a memorandum written by a bureau agent identified as T. J. Harrington Jr. After writing that "the following Negro reporters are known to the writer," the agent listed six journalists: Bill McCreary of WNEW-TV, Gil Noble of WABC-TV, Melba Tolliver of WABC-TV, Lester Carson of The Associated Press, Denton Watson of United Press International and Stanley Scott of radio station WINS.

Mr. Noble said last week that he could not identify "Harrington" and that he did not remember any contact with the agent. Mr. Scott, now a vice president of the Philip Morris Corporation, said the name Harrington "doesn't ring a bell." Mr. Carson and Mr. Watson, no longer with the news agencies, could not be reached for comment. Mr. McCreary said last week that he had "never heard of Harrington." Miss Tolliver, now with WNBC-TV, said, "I may have been known to him, but he was not known to me."

The documents discussed attempts to contact Earl Caldwell, a black reporter working at the time for The New York Times. In 1968, agents visited him at The Times to discuss an article he had written. He declined to discuss it. In 1970 bureau agents in San Francisco tried repeatedly to reach him at The Times's bureau there to ask about an interview he had apparently taped with David Hilliard, a Panther Party official. He refused.

Then the Department of Justice subpoenaed him to bring his notes and tapes before a Federal grand jury investigating the Panthers. He continued to refuse, and his refusals led to the 1972 decision by the Supreme Court that journalists had no special right to conceal the identities of their sources from a grand jury. Mr. Caldwell, however, was never required to testify.

In one memorandum, the New York office said that "nothing has occurred which would highlight any infidelity upon the part of the members, although it must be assumed that this group is generally a low moral outfit and general misconduct might be rampant." It was then suggested that "discreet pretext phone calls, using a Negro accent, be made to the spouse suggesting various things concerning her husband."

The bureau also tried to plant suspicion in minds of some New York Panthers, in routine interviews with them, that their chapter's leader, Joudon Ford, who had recently traveled overseas extensively, was an agent for the Central Intelligence Agency.

CHICAGO TRIBUNE OCT. 29, 1980

Black Panther rights case goes to new judge

THE CONTROVERSIAL $47.7 million Black Panther civil rights case has been reassigned to United States District Judge John F. Grady, it was disclosed Monday.

Grady, 51, a former federal prosecutor and a federal judge since 1976, got the case for retrial through the court's random assignment system after U.S. District Judge Wilton Shadur disqualified himself because of a possible conflict of interest.

The case was filed in 1970 by survivors of the Dec. 4, 1969, police raid on a West Side apartment and the relatives of two Black Panthers slain in the hail of gunfire, Fred Hampton and Mark Clark. The defendants are former State's Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan, FBI agents, and police who conducted the raid.

Judge
John Grady

A reputation for issuing tough sentences to convicted criminals.

THE ORIGINAL trial lasted a record 18 months and ended in June, 1977, when Senior U.S. District Judge Joseph Sam Perry ruled in favor of Hanrahan. Last June, the U.S. Supreme Court sent the case back for a new trial.

Panther trial judge urges settlement

By Jay Branegan

FEDERAL DISTRICT Judge John Grady on Friday urged both sides in a $47.7 million Black Panther civil rights case to consider settling the 10-year-old case out of court.

"It will be another long, arduous trial," said Grady, to whom the case was transferred from Judge Milton I. Shadur. "It will cause the reliving of events extremely painful to many people in this community."

Settling out of court, he said, "would be an act of legal statesmanship."

The case was filed by relatives of the Black Panther's Fred Hampton, who died in a predawn police raid on Dec. 4, 1969. The defendants are then-State's Atty. Edward Hanrahan and various police and Federal Bureau of Investigation officials.

An earlier trial lasted 18 months, the longest in federal history, and ended in June, 1977, with a hung jury. Judge Joseph Sam Perry then entered a verdict in favor of Hanrahan and the others. The United States Supreme Court in June ordered a new trial.

GRADY ORDERED a two-week hiatus while attorneys of both sides discuss a settlement with their clients.

"There is room for substantial concessions on both sides. Neither should feel overly confident" about victory, he said.

(U.S.D.C., N.D. ILL.)
CIVIL ACTION NO. 70-C-1384

Enclosed are the excision guidelines which will be utilized by the Civil Discovery Review Unit II (CDRU-II) of our Records Management Division in processing plaintiffs' document request. These guidelines have been previously brought to the attention of Assistant United States Attorney [redacted] of your office. The CDRU-II is currently processing the Chicago Black Panther Party (BPP) file.

b6

Our Chicago Field Office has indicated that plaintiffs have requested that we process the Hampton litigation file following the completion of our BPP review. Our pending litigation files are subject to the Attorney-Client Privilege as are your litigation files, the litigation files of the Department of Justice and the plaintiffs' litigation file.

Honorable Thomas P. Sullivan

Until such time as an agreement is reached to process all litigation files, we must object to the production of ours alone. However, we will reprocess that portion of the Chicago Civil Rights file (44 classification) up to the point where it became a litigation file.

We realize the sensitive nature of the discovery requirements of this litigation. Nevertheless, we have consistently asserted the Attorney-Client privilege with respect to our pending litigation files and to accede to plaintiffs' current demand would set a dangerous precedent. Therefore, we request that you assert appropriate objections with regard to this file.

We will shortly begin transmitting processed documents from the Chicago BPP file. Our Chicago Office has been requested to forward its 44 case on Hampton (up to the point that it becomes the litigation file) and we will begin to reprocess that according to the enclosed excision guidelines.

If you have any questions or need further assistance, please contact SA [redacted] of our Civil Litigation Unit, FTS [redacted]

IBERIA HENDERSON, et al., v.
EDWARD V. HANRAHAN, et al.
(U.S.D.C., N.D. ILL.)
CIVIL ACTION NO. 70-C-1384

Enclosed are approximately 2,500 pages from the Chicago Black Panther Party (CBPP) file, which have been processed by the Civil Discovery Review Unit II (CDRU II) of our Records Management Division (RMD). You have previously received a copy of the omission guidelines utilized in processing plaintiffs' document requests. It is anticipated that we will be forwarding approximately 2,400 - 3,000 pages every two weeks henceforth.

We are aware that Assistant United States Attorney (AUSA) [redacted] of your office made representations to Judge Grady during the December 18, 1980, status conference that the FBI would produce approximately 2,500 pages per week. That representation was based on a conversation between AUSA [redacted] and SA [redacted] of our Civil Litigation Unit I (CLU I) relative to the production schedule in Moore v. Levi, the New York BPP case. Since that conversation, the CDRU II of our FBI has been required to produce voluminous files in two major cases that were unforeseen at that time: the Peoples Temple case and the Abscam case in New York.

Therefore, our current resources are stretched to the limit and the aforementioned schedule in Hampton is the best that we can do at this time. Once the requirements of those other cases subside, then we will be able to increase production.

We hope that this misunderstanding has not inconvenienced you and that our explanations are sufficient. If you have any questions regarding this matter, please contact SA [redacted] of our CLU I, FTS [redacted]

CIVIL ACTION NO. 70 C 1384

Forwarded under separate cover are three copies each of 1,610 processed pages from Chicago file 44-1503, as captioned above, representing Volumes 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6. These files were processed by Civil Discovery Review Unit #2 of our Records Management Division.

These files were processed using the same excision guidelines previously furnished to you with the following breakdowns added under Category "J":

1. J-1 Documents subject to 'in camera' inspection - Bureau communications which are communications between attorneys or attorney and client (and therefore subject to attorney-client/work-product privilege), but which discuss the production or non-production of documents.

2. J-2 Documents which will not be released since they are subject to a claim of attorney-client/work-product privilege - Bureau communications which are the same as J-1 except that they do not discuss the production of documents.

3. J-3 Documents which will not be disclosed per order of Judge Grady - Any documents concerning representation of defendants by the Department of Justice.

These documents are numbered 102931 to 101469. The numbering was started at 100991 so that these files could be differentiated from the previously released Chicago file 157-1291 and subs.

The file being forwarded is, in fact, a compilation of material concerning the litigation itself and, as such, is being released under court order issued by United States District Judge John Grady. This release should in no way be considered precedent setting.
